Say it like this.

Twelve approved angles live in the library. These six carry most programs, and every line here is pre-cleared.

THE VALUE SPLIT

"Better prices for them. Bigger payouts for you."

The program lead. Works on hubs, bios, and directory listings.

THE HONEST SUPERLATIVE

"Up to $540 per order. Among the highest published commissions in telehealth."

Backed by the public rate table, never a vague range.

COVERAGE

"Every order pays, including one-time purchases."

Most programs pay nothing outside subscriptions. Say so.

TRUST-LED

"Put your name on care you can stand behind."

For creators protective of their audience. Pair with the LegitScript seal.

CATEGORY BREADTH

"One partnership, four categories."

Weight care, ED, hair, longevity. Pick what fits, get paid on all of it.

THE ACCESS MISSION

"Help your audience afford care."

For creators who will not shill. Transparent pricing, licensed providers.

Words we never print

Results numbers · timelines · guarantees · cures · "FDA approved" · "generic Ozempic" · before and after imagery · patient outcome stories #ad. I partner with HealthRX. Licensed providers in all 50 states, semaglutide from $99/mo, no insurance required. My link is below.

INSTAGRAM

Disclosure first, price from the published table, and the medical step stays with the provider. That is the whole formula.

Exclusive offers, the honest way

- Frame intro pricing against list price. Never invent a deeper discount.
- Prices come from the published table or the live site, nothing else.
- Exclusive codes and featured placements are available through your partnerships manager.

The habits that keep you paid.

None of this is homework. It is how the program stays clean, and how your commissions stay yours.

Always

- ✓ Disclose every affiliate link, before the link, impossible to miss. #ad or Paid link in the first line.
- ✓ Stay in the approved lanes: price, access, convenience, physician supervised, all 50 states, LegitScript certified.
- ✓ Paste the GLP-1 boilerplate below on every GLP-1 placement.
- ✓ Describe the medical step accurately: online intake, licensed provider review, prescribed only if appropriate.
- ✓ Pull prices from the published table or the live site, never from memory.
- ✓ Send new claims to your manager first. Content review inside 48 hours on business days.

Never

- ✗ Bid on HealthRX brand terms or register lookalike domains, handles, or app names.
- ✗ Claim or imply FDA approval, or use sameness language like "generic Ozempic".
- ✗ Make results claims: no numbers, no timelines, no cures, no guarantees.
- ✗ Use before and after imagery, patient outcome stories, or fabricated reviews.
- ✗ Run paid ads for prescription products from your own Google, Meta, or TikTok accounts.
- ✗ Answer medical or dosing questions. Route every one to the provider consultation.

PASTE THIS ON EVERY GLP-1 PLACEMENT

"Compounded medications are not FDA approved.
Prescription products require an online provider consultation and are prescribed only if appropriate."

Caption, description, or on screen. Wherever the GLP-1 claim lives, this block lives next to it.

FTC basics, in one breath

Disclose the material connection clearly, before the link, in the same language as your content. Never bury it in hashtags, a bio, or a footer. The disclosure travels with the content when it is shared, quoted, or clipped.

The disclosure test

COULD A VIEWER MISS IT?

PASSES First line of the caption

"#ad. I partner with HealthRX and earn a commission from my link."

BURIED Hashtag 27 of 30, below the fold

"#wellness #morningroutine #selfcare #ad" after three paragraphs. A disclosure nobody sees is not a disclosure.

VAGUE "sp", "collab", "thanks to my partners"

Shorthand the FTC has called out by name. Say commission, ad, or paid link in plain words.

Channel-by-channel templates are on the next page.

THREE RULES COVER MOST OF IT

01 Disclose every link

Every placement, every time, before the link.

02 Never touch our brand terms

No bidding, no lookalike domains or handles.

03 Only approved claims

Price, access, physician supervised. Nothing else.

Disclose like a professional.

Copy-paste disclosure lines for every channel, and a clear map of where prescription telehealth can and cannot be promoted.
